Subject: IMPORTANT -- CRANK CALLS

The Home Owners' Association has received several complaints from residents getting calls identifying themselves as being from the Home Owners' Association and talking about strange and unusual topics the HOA would never talk about.

Rest assured that the Home Owners' Association will not call and start talking about the subject matter in these calls.

In one instance, a resident who received one of these calls, had call display on their phone and after the call ended, called them back and gave them a warning if they did not stop, they would report them the police.
