National Volunteer Week – April 19–25 Ignite Volunteerism

This year, communities across Canada will celebrate National Volunteer Week from April 19–25 with the theme “Ignite Volunteerism.”

It’s a perfect opportunity for us to pause and recognize something very special about Sandycove.

Our community runs on volunteer spirit.

Behind many of the things that make Sandycove such a vibrant place to live are residents who quietly give their time, ideas, and energy to help others.

From:

- The HOA Board of Directors
- Hall committees
- Club organizers
- Event volunteers
- Residents who step up to lend a hand

These volunteers help create the welcoming and active community that we all enjoy.

Whether it’s organizing events, helping neighbours connect, supporting community initiatives, or sharing knowledge and experience, volunteers play an essential role in keeping Sandycove strong.

National Volunteer Week also coincides this year with International Volunteer Year 2026, a global initiative recognizing the powerful impact that volunteers have in communities around the world.

At Sandycove, we see that impact every day.

To everyone who gives their time, energy, and ideas to support our community:

Thank you. Your contributions truly make a difference.

And if you’ve ever thought about getting involved — even in a small way — this week is a wonderful reminder that every volunteer effort helps strengthen the community we share.

Together, we continue to build the Sandycove spirit that makes this such a special place to call home.
